Student Assistant at the Chair of Macroeconomics (20 h/month)

We are seeking a highly motivated student assistant currently enrolled in our master of economics program to join our team. As a student assistant, you will

- support us in our research and teaching activities
- collect and maintain macroeconomic datasets
- program and run macroeconomic simulation models
- gain valuable hands-on experience in macroeconomic model building and data analysis.

The ideal candidate

- is enthusiastic about macroeconomic models and their numerical simulation
- has a strong interest in macroeconomic policy questions
- has some experience with Python or other comparable programming languages
- has the ability to work in a team and on research projects.

In your application please include a brief cover letter outlining your interest in the position and the usual documents (CV, transcript of records,...). Please submit your application by email to Ms. Nicoleta Rusu (nicoleta.rusu@vwl.uni-freiburg.de) no later than

April 15, 2024

If you have any further questions, please send an email to marten.hillebrand@vwl.uni-freiburg.de.
